Very sad this series is done but looking forward to reading more adventure from Janessa! Maybe a camp reunion a few years later???!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy CustomerNice way to end off the series! Can't wait till there is more out :)

Camp is nearly over, and Jessa finds herself the love-target of not one, but several young men. As suitors vie for her attention, Jessa is distracted by something she considers a far-worse crisis; the disastrous new relationship between two people she cares about. As Jessa predicts a catastrophic break-up, old vices resurface and the truth begins to skew. At the same time, a close friend is determined to uncover a guarded secret and pressures Jessa to help. Worst of all, the fear of losing her beloved horse Fairlight looms ever nearer, and Jessa feels powerless to prevent it. Amidst the struggles of trying to figure out her own heart, a mysterious admirer makes his intentions known, and Jessa is faced with a choice. Can Jessa give her love-life to God, and trust Him to show her which trail to take? Book 3 packs a punch: drama, romance, and best of all, fun! The perfect light read for horse-lovers ages 11-18.

About the AuthorJanessa Suderman grew up going to horse camp in the foothills of southern Alberta, Canada, and remembers those years fondly. She bought her first horse Dawn at the age of 16, and still gets out riding on her as often as possible. Janessa received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree from Trinity Western University, and works part-time as a nurse. An avid reader from a young age, Janessa kept her younger brother entertained by making up elaborate stories to help him get to sleep. Over the years she has written multiple short stories, poetry, and novels for leisure. The Summer Trails Series is her first published work. She currently lives in southern Alberta with her husband and young son.
